MAY ASK CARRANZA TO PROTECT FOREIGNERS

Fear Particularly for Safety of Chinese

Chinese Will Have Right of Asylum in U. S. After Pershing's Withdrawal from Mexico—Will Not Be Given Freedom To Move at Will in United States.

Washington, Jan. 284.—Coincident with the withdrawal of General Pershing's force from Mexico an urgent appeal probably will be sent by the United States to Carranza to make every possible effort to protect foreigners in the district that has been occupied by American troops for the past ten months.

Fear is felt particularly for the safety of the many Chinese who have been purveyors of supplies to the Americans. It was said at the state department today that if the Chinese considered themselves in danger and chose to cross into the United States no objection would be made in spite of the act excluding them. They will not be given freedom to move at will in American territory but will have the right of asylum as long as it appears to be dangerous for them to return to Mexico.

The administration is manifesting much interest in the continued mobilization of Villa forces to strategic points in the north and considerable speculation was aroused by a report today that the rebels had cut the railroad south of Chihuahua.

Information reached here today that diplomatic agents of both Great Britain and France in Mexico had protested formally against the recent seizure of the metallic reserve of the National Bank and the Bank of London and Mexico.

The American government made representations some time ago but a new inquiry as to the facts probably will be made and if it is shown that any Americans were interested either as stockholders or as depositors a further communication may be addressed to Carranza government.

No further advices were received today regarding the fate of the two priests held in Zacatecas on the charge of conspiracy.

Troops Enroute to Police District

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 24.—Olio Federico, 80 miles north of Colonia Dublan, Chihuahua will be the temporary field headquarters of the American punitive expedition during the withdrawal operations it was learned here today. After retirement of the troops, Major General J. J. Pershing and his staff will proceed to their posts at Columbus, N. M.

Major General Pershing has perfected his plans for moving the headquarters equipment from Olio Federico within the next two days it is reported.

Quantities of food, forage and firewood were sent to Olio Federico from Colonia Dublan according to a report. A movable field bakery was set up there two days ago, it was added and convoy troops near the communication line were being concentrated there preparatory to the general withdrawal.

El Valle (San Buena Ventura) was abandoned as an outpost of the American expedition at dawn today when the Fifth United States cavalry which had been acting as a rear guard for this preliminary withdrawal movement, cantered out of the little adobe town and started northward toward Colonia Dublan, according to the messages received here. The 13th cavalry, the 6th and 16th regiments, which were encamped at El Valle left there Sunday morning for Colonia Dublan and were reported to have arrived there together with the Chargos escorted yesterday.

General Francisco Murguia left the state capital yesterday on a troop train for a reconnoitering trip over the Mexico Northwestern railroad west of the capital in search of Villa.

Passengers arriving from Chihuahua City today reported the capture of 10,000 pesos silver money by General Eduardo Hernandez from the Villa troops at Pilar de Conchos, stolen from Parral recently, they said. Forty de facto wounded were also brought to Chihuahua City yesterday they reported.

Senate Remains in Session While Executive Sees Callers in His Office.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—President Wilson made two visits to his office in the capitol today for conferences in spite of criticisms of his course voiced in the senate yesterday by Senator Jones of Washington and repeated freely in the cloak rooms by other Republicans. The senate remained in session while the president was seeing callers in his office just outside the senate chamber. On previous visits the president's conferences have been devoted entirely to parts of his legislative program, but today he had appointments with several men and women outside of congress including Mrs. William Cumming Story, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution; Frank P. Glass, vice-president of the American Newspaper Publishers association and Mrs. George Bass of Chicago, chief of the woman's bureau of the Democratic national committee.

Leaving the white house after lunch, Mr. Wilson spent an hour in his capitol office and then went for a long walk with Secretary Tumulty. On his return to the capitol he walked thru the lobby back of the senate chamber, stopping to shake hands with several senators.

The only conference today having a direct bearing on the legislative program was with Majority Leader Kitchin of the house regarding the revenue bill.

REVEAL OPPOSITION TO CUMMINS' PROPOSAL

Democrats Stand Against Senator's Resolution

Maintain That Discussion of President Wilson's World Peace Address Would make Necessary An Extra Session of Congress.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Opposition was revealed in the senate today to Senator Cummins' proposal to set aside next week for discussion of President Wilson's world peace address. Led by Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, the Democrats stood against the Cummins resolution maintaining that such discussion would make necessary an extra session of congress. At the outset of the debate Senator Stone moved that the resoluton be referred to the foreign relations committee; later Senator Norris moved to add instructions that the committee make a report within ten days. The resolution went to the senate calendar without action.

Senator Cummins insisted tonight upon pressing the matter at every opportunity and it might precipitate discussion during the first hour of the senate's session every day.

Senator Cummins declared that the president's proposals, right or wrong, were the most important ever made by a chief executive of the United States and that the senate owed a duty to the country to discuss them.

Senator Stone insisted that discussion in the senate could not enlighten the president or guide his footsteps. He declared there was scarcely time left for disposing of pressing legislation before March 4.

Senator Shafroth of Colorado, proposed discussion in special session when it will meet to consider nominations. Senator Lodge urged adoption of the resolution now, maintaining that it would save instead of waste time because any senator cannot discuss the issues if he chooses no matter what legislation is under consideration.

"We need here in this great city a neighborhod spirit," Mrs. Astor said, in telling of her plans, "a spirit which will make us acquainted with the homes and needs of each other. We shall never in my judgment become an Americanized nation until we can bring up our ranks and make them as strong as their leaders.

COMPILE TAX RETURNS COLLECTED ON WHISKEY

Tendency Toward Prohibition Has Not Lowered Revenue

Amount Consumed in 1916 Apparently Greater Than in Any Previous Year Since 1909, According To Figures—Consumption of Cigarettes Reaches High Mark.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The amount of whiskey consumed by the American people in 1916 apparently was greater than in any previous year since 1909, according to tax returns to the treasury department compiled today and the amount of revenue collected by the government on whiskey, beer and cigarettes during the year was the greatest on record.

While returns show that the tendency toward prohibition has not lowered the government's revenue from whiskey, officials believe a portion of the increase—nearly $24,000,000 more than in 1915—is attributable to the fact that the government is at present collecting taxes on all the whiskey produced in the country where as because of extensive frauds, such was not the case a few years ago.

Consumption of cigarettes in 1916 reached the highest mark ever recorded. The tremendous increase more than forty percent over 1915, is attributed to two main causes, increased prosperity of the country and growth of the cigarette habit among women. Many millions of cigarettes made for feminine users were produced in this country and imported during the past year.

The number of paper wrapper cigarettes upon which the government levied a tax during the year reached the grand total of 25,222,960,928 as compared with 17,989,224,208 in 1915. These figures cover only manufactured paper wrapped cigarettes and do not include tobacco used by smokers who roll their own cigarettes.

Records show that the government collected a tax of $1.10 per gallon on 146,255,146 gallons of whiskey during the year, a total of $160,990,660 as compared with 124,549,210 gallons and a tax yield of $137,604,131 in 1915. Beer consumptio, according to the records was 61,145,582 barrels, or 1,895,513,073 gallons in 1916 was against 57,805,869 barrels, or 1,791,981,939 gallons the previous year.

The tax yield on beer during 1916 was $91,718,375; in 1915 was $86,708,863. Total revenue on beer and whiskey during 1916 was $252,708,953 as compored with $223,712,934 in 1915.

Cigarettes yielded internal revenues to the amount of $31,541,200 last year and $22,424,042 the year before making the total revenue to the government from these three sources $284,250,235 in 1916 and $246,136,9956 in 1915, an increase last year of $38,113,239.

Beer consumption altho greater last year than in 1915, fell nearly 5,000,000 barrels below the high level of 66,000,000 barrels in 1914 and was exceeded by the consumption of beer in 1911, 1912 and 1913. The nearest approach since 1909 to last year's consumption of whiskey was in 1913 when consumption reached a total of approximately 143,000,000 barrels.

Monthly comparison of records discloses that the American people apparently drink nearly eighty percent more whiskey in November and December than in mid-summer and fifty percent more beer in summer than winter. Wide fluctuations in the number of cigarettes consumed from month to month also are disclosed, the minimum being nearly forty five per cent below the maximum in August.

All the firm's claims were sold at public auction, so that the plaintiffs in the present litigation are the assignees of Mills and Gibbs.

Some of Mr. Evans' purchasese have been presented to the National Gallery at Washington, the Brooklyn Museum and to various cities and towns.

TAKE POMEROY OUT OF SOLITARY CONFINEMENT

Man Has Spent Forty-one Years In Cell Lighted from a Window in the Ceiling.

Boston, Jan. 24.—Jesse Pomeroy, who has been for forty one years in solitary confinement in the state prison at Charlestown, was granted equal privileges with other prisoners by the state executive council today. Convicted of murder at fifteen, Pomeroy two years later was locked up in a cell lighted from a window in the ceiling so that he might not gaze on his fellowmen.

Now, at the age of 57 years Pomeroy will move into a cell where he can see passersby, will be allowed to exercise with other prisoners, sit with them at the church services.

Governor McCall announced tonight that he approved the commutation.

Pomeroy was convicted of the brutal murder of two children, following a series of degenerate acts which had terrorized the South Boston and Dorchester districts of this city. He was sentenced to be hanged but because of his youth the sentence was commuted to solitary confinement for life. When Pomeroy began his sentence he was positive educated. Now he can read in seven languages and at the age of 57 is studying Arabic. For the past four years he has been diligently studying law as it bears upon his case. COMMITTEE SUSPENDS NOTE "LEAK" INQUIRY

Give Brokers Time To Produce Records of Dealings

Hearings Probably Will Be Resumed Tuesday, By Which Time It is Expected the Accounts Will Have Been Examined By Experts.

New York, Jan. 24.—To give stock exchange brokers time to produce records of the dealings of their customers during the time the international peace situation was a factor in the stock market, the rules committee of the house suspended today its "leak" inquiry and returned to Washington. They will come back probably next Tuesday by which time it is expected the brokers accounts will have been examined by the committee's experts.

The committee expects to learn from these accounts who were the big operators in the market just prior to the publication of the president's peace note and will then summon these individuals to find out if they had any advance information on the note and if so, where they got it.

The adjournment came after the committee had been informed by Chairman Samuel P. Streit of the stock exchange clearing house committee that it would be physically impossible for the 600 or so brokerage houses belonging to the exchange to produce the desired data within two weeks or a month. This was in conflict with an earlier statement by President H. G. S. Noble of the Stock Exchange who thought the first responses might be within a day or two. The committee went into executive session on the subject with Messrs Streit and Noble and its experts.

The result was that the committee subjected to the board of governors of the exchange a supplemental request to be transmitted to the brokers which was expected to simplify the bookkeeping task of furnishe the desired data but also to provide for concealment of the names of customers whom the committee finds need not be involved in the inquiry.

Under the new schema the actual accounts are to be submitted to one exchelone and the names of the customer in another with a common symbol for both. If the account on examination appears innocent the envelope containing the name will remain unopened.

The board of governors agreed to submit the request and the committee went away presumed that the brokers would respond to it but the committee's counsel, Sherman L. Whipple made it plain that if any broker dissented the power of congress would be used to force him to reveal the information desired.

Already the committee's experts have the stock exchange clearing house sheets under examination and have a list of brokerage houses which sold stocks heavily just prior to the publication of the note. One of these documents showing sales on Dec. 19 of 15,600 shares of Baldwin Locomotive stock for an unnamed firm was submitted to the committee in its public session today.

As was the case yesterday the committee's session today was devoted largely to an effort to secure from the brokers information as to the volume of stock market transactions in connection with the publication of President Wilson's peace note. Chairman Rainey declared that the committee was not seeking information from the brokers as to their private affairs but only such information as was available for short operation Mr. Whipple was assisted by Representative Chiperfield. The congressmen accused the attorney of impugning Noble's sincerity. Whipple denied any such intention.

INSTRUCT GERARD TO ACCEPT OFFER

Germany Offers To Permit An Investigation of Conditions Among the Deported Belgians.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Ambassador Gerard at Berlin has been instructed to accept the German government's offer to permit an investigation of conditions among Belgians deported into Germany by the military authorities. The department has not been informed what steps will be required to make the inquiry.

This action was in response to a suggestion in the German note replying to the protest of the United States. After defending the course of the military authorities as necessary and not in violation of the principles of international law or humanity the note added.

"If the government of the United States attaches importance to it a member of its embassy in Berlin would be permitted with pleasure to inform himself by personal visits about the conditions under which these persons are living."

The proposed investigation involves merely the present living conditions of those deported and not the justice of the deportations.

Officials here are known to feel that Germany, instead of yielding to the remonstrances made by the United States and also by Spain, Holland and Switzerland and the vatican has given notice that she intends to continue the deportations.

COMMITTEES RECEIVE DRAFT ON LOWDEN'S PLAN

Measure Would Aolish Several Hundred Offices

Governor Explains His Plan Does Not Contemplate Any Avoidable Interference with Civil Service—Leaves Salaries To Legislation.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 24—Governor Frank O. Lowden placed in the hands of the senate and house committees on consolidation and efficiency and economy this afternoon a completed rough draft of his plan to combine approximately one hundred bureaus and commissions of state government into nine state departments.

Before the house committee the governor explained that his plan does not contemplate any avoidable interference with civil service.

The governor's plan contemplates the organization of the following departments: Finance, agriculture, labor, mines and minerals, public works, charities and corrections, public health, trade and commerce and education and registration.

The salaries of the directors and most of the other officers are left to the discretion of the legislature. All are to be appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate, each shall hold office for four years.

The bill if passed would abolish several hundred offices.

Hopes of the "drys" in the lower house were raised tonigth when Representative Wm. P. Halladay of the Danville district, a "wet" in previous sessions, confirmed a report that he would vote for the "dry" bills at this session.

Representative Thomas E. Lee of Springfield, chairman of the temperance committee in the house, said that hopes of passing a state-wide prohibition bill had risen within the past few days.

Senator Curtis' resolution proposing to submit the question of a convention to revise the state constitution was adopted by the senate today with but one opposing vote.

The resolution will not be put up to the house. Appropriations totalling $48,5000, were recommended for passage by the senate committee on appropriations today.

A bill proposing that only American citizens shall be licensed to conduct saloons or own any dramshop property in Illinois was introduced in the house today by Representative Placek. The bill Mr. Placek originated with the "wet" sympathizers in the state. It was referred to the license or "wet" committee. Among the other bills introduced in the house today was one by Representative Epstein, of Chicago, designed to prevent advertising or the sale of bogus "kosher" meats. It makes such an offense a misdemeanor.

Twenty five bills were introduced in the house before it adjourned, until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

A bill to forbid the use of injunctions in labor disputes except to save irreparable loss of life or property was among the eleven measures introduced in the senate.

DENIES HE KNEW OF PRESENCE OF OIL

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Henry E. Huntington, testifying here today in the government's suit against the Southern Pacific Railway company to recover lands in California said to be worth $32,000,000, denied that at the time the property was acquired by patent in 1894 the company had knowledge of the presence of oil there. Mr. Huntington declared there had been no restriction by the company on the sale of its lands prior to 1899. Up to that time however, certain reservations were made on the recommendation ow J. D. Treadwell, the company's oil expert.

Oil was discovered in paying quantities he added, near Bakersfield, California in 1899.

More than ten years ago the farm house in which the farmer lived was burned. Bones were found in the ruins and the farmer was missing. Kadat was tried and convicted.

COMMITTEE DECLINES TO APPROVE SUGGESTION

Turns Down Provision Forbidding Strike or Lockout

Fight for Proposal in Railroad Legislation May Be Made On the Floor of the Senate—Brotherhoods Desire to Suggest Changes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—For the second time since it began consideration of railroad legislation to supplement the Adamson law the senate interstate commerce committee today declined to approve a provision suggested by President Wilson forbidding a strike or lockout pending investigation of a labor controversy. The vote was ten to five.

Ten days ago the committee turned down this provision 7 to 3. If the committee continues to disapprove of the measure, a fight will be made for it on the floor of the senate. Chairman Newlands was confident that approval would be given a measure that would prevent obstructions to interstate commerce without actually forbiding a strike.

Representatives of the four railroad brotherhoods had informed President Wilson that they desired to suggest changes to bills now pending. The president asked that the suggestions be submitted in writing.

It is understood the brotherhood's proposal provides for a permanent investigating commission composed partly of employers and employes, without a strike prohibition feature.

The senate committee adopted a provision for a board of investigation to be appointed by the president when occasion arises.

The committee reached a provision designed to prevent obstruction of interstate commerce without interference with the right to strike.

The bill includes authorization for the president to operate the railroads in case of military necessity.

MAY ORDER MRS. ETHEL BYRNE FORCIBLY FED

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—If Mrs. Ethel Byrne, who is serving a sentence of thirty days in the penitentiary for disseminating information on birth control persists in her refusal to eat the New York penal authorities will have to deal with their first real hunger strike. Mrs. Byrne says she has eaten nothing since Monday morning.

Commissioner of Correction Lewis declared today that he was not inclined to take her threat seriously, but if physicians reported she was dying he would order her forcibly fed. Mrs. Byrne asserted that from her training as a nurse she knew that forcible feeding methods could not be used successfully if she was opposed to it.

The prisoner is a sister of Mrs. Margaret Sanger, who is known throughout the country for her advocacy of birth control.

GRANT MRS. MATTERS PERMISSION TO APPEAL

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—An appeal to the United States Supreme Court was granted today to Mrs. Anna Dolly Ledgerwood Matters from the ruling of Federal Judge Landis who decided that Margaret Ryan, a Canadian girl, was the mother of "Baby Irene," the infant claimed by Mrs. Matters as her own and over possession of which there was a sharp contest six months ago.

Permission to appeal on the ground that the lower court had no jurisdiction was not granted by Judge Landis until he had brusquely pointed out that he had been shown evidence of conspiracy to attempt to foist a spurious heir upon the Matters estate, and had called before him the lawyers who had represented Mrs. Matters.

Mrs. Matters declared that in the earlier hearing she had been advised by her counsel not to testify. This was denied by the counsel.

The original hearing was an outgrowth of a contest made by relatives against Mrs. Matters' claim to a large share of the estate of her husband, the late Fred Matters.

ELEVEN DOG TEAMS START 522 MILE RACE

WINNIPEG, Jan. 24.—Eleven dog teams and as many drivers, the hardiest and sturdiest in the north country, were skimming over unbroken trails to the south of Winnipeg early tonight on the first lap of the 522-mile classic, the Red River derby from this city to St. Paul.

The weather was clear and cold, but the drivers found the going difficult. Late today they were well bunched nearly 30 miles south of this city.

A special train will keep in close touch with the contestants throughout the race and replenish their food supplies when necessary. The race will be a go-as-you-please affair, the men having the privilege of stopping to rest or pushing on as they choose. The St. Paul Carnival association is staging the contest.

A Chicago jury the other day disposed of a case involving two and a half million dollars in a few moments' time. The case involved an issue of twenty million dollars' worth of gold bonds by the Rock Island railroad and the jury finding was made in eight minutes' time. Unfortunately these instances of "swift justice"—or at any rate, quick action—are few in court procedures and far more frequently the trial involving little other than the ill-feeling of the litigants will drag along for weeks.

It develops according to the opinion of the attorney general that President Wilson was within his legal rights as president when he elevated the white house physician and his personal friend, Dr. Grayson, to the rank of admiral, taking him over the heads of at least 100 who were in line for appointment. The fact that the president was within his legal rights does not change the feeling that the eligibles and disappointed ones will have. Incidentally it is a bad precedent for men to be chosen for positons in the army and navy merely as a matter of personal preference.

The State Register is disposed to criticise the general assembly for having been in session two weeks without taking action upon any bill. Certainly comparing the record of the present assembly with those of other years, no criticism is yet due, and, in fact, commendation for the earnestness of effort manifested.

The Register also suggests that Governor Lowden should follow the example of President Wilson and personally attend the assembly sessions in the endeavor to push thru the legislation he favors. The governor's means of getting thru legislation he has promised to support have in no sense been exhausted and at this stage the Wilson system is not needed.

OPTIMISM

Optimism is, from the optimist's standpoint, the one quality needed to make this world radiant with all-round excellence. To another type of observer, extreme optimism seems a flabby-spirited way to accept life, as if living were a merry-go-round instead of a tourney full of invigorating buffeting. Indeed, at times optimism seems almost a form of shirking the easy refusal to correct what is amiss in the world, by the simple expedient of not admitting that any thing is amiss. When it comes to that, better far the pessimism which sees many things wrong about the present, but strives to make the future more like perfection. Possibly the unqualified optimist can never travel so far as the "pessimist" who makes present evil grist for future good.—Editorial from Colliers for January 27th.

POSTPONING EXPENDITURES.

The state charities commission has made the sensible recommendation that the state attempt little at the present time in additions to state institutions. This suggestion is made partially because of the scarcity of labor and the high prices which must be paid for steel, cement and some other materials entering into construction of the average building. But there is an added reason for this suggestion in that the board believes that it would be better for the commonwealth if large building activities be delayed until a time when industrial conditions are more depressed. There is logic and good sense in the idea that at such a time the state can secure better values for the money expended and the labor afforded in the building work will come at a time when it is needed — when the distribution of the wage money will be of decided advantage to the people at large.

A SUGGESTION TO WOMEN'S CLUBS

The pertinent and timely suggestion has been made that the various women's clubs of Jacksonville in arranging their next programs of work should take up subjects relating to their own state. The centennial celebration is now approaching and the study of Illinois' past and present by the literary organizations would add materially to the centennial interest and also bring to light a great many facts about the state. This idea, it is understood, has already been adopted by women's clubs in a number of other cities.

The phases of the subject are so many that all the clubs of Jacksonville could study Illinois without the particular subjects over-lapping. The topography, mineral resources, the rivers, agriculture, notable men and a hundred subjects of historic interest connected with the state could easily be mentioned. At any rate it is a worth while idea that some concerted effort be made by the clubs to direct their study toward state subjects. In this way they will add very materially to their own interest and pride in their state and also contribute larger to the centennial interest.

The Adding Machine

I watched a wonderful machine count up five miles of figures; the operator, all serene, just pressed some keys and triggers; it didn't sweat or tear its hair, it didn't make a blunder; it counted all the figures there and put the product under. A set of books I used to keep, when I was young and husky, and homeward wearily I'd creep when dusk was growing dusky. I counted figures all day long, above my ledgers bending, and always got the derned things wrong, and sorrow was unending. And when the long day's work was o'er, my troubles home I'd carry, and there, despodent, sick and sore, I'd raise old Ned and Harry. My children were afraid of me, and so was Old Dog Rover; my wife would often climb a tree until my grouch was over. But now the keepers of the books are not worn out and weary; they seek their divers inglenooks with faces sad and cheery. A thing of springs and bolts and nuts shears work of all its rigors; a thing with brass and iron guts counts up the dizzy figures. And ever thus, in endless ways, invention makes things lighter, and brings some sunshine to the days of every toiling blighter.

STATES HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPALS ARE HUMAN

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Jacob M. Loeb, president of the board of education of this city tonight said that high school principals of the male persuasion are human in explaining why he agrees largely with the indignant charge made at a board meeting yesterday by Mrs. George P. Vosbrink, a member, that principals in selecting teachers paid little attention to mental equipment and much to charm of face and figure in filling positions.

"You would think they were filling up a musical comedy chorus instead of seeking fit guides for children," protested Mrs. Vosbrink.

Mr. Loeb said, "It is only human that the high school principals who are men should consider these qualities in a woman. It is the natural thing for them to do. They want teachers with whom they can get along. If a teacher has a pleasing personality she is going to get along well with pupils and other teachers."

SHIPS CARRY GOLD FOR THE ARGENTINE

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 24.—It became known here tonight that the three steamers under American registery, which have sailed in the last two months for South American ports from Baltimore carried $5,000,000 in American gold coin for Argentine and that they will be followed by others carrying $20,000,000.

The steamers were the Winnebago, Audsible and Maumee, none of which have been reported and which cleared for Rio Janeiro, the first on Dec. 24.

It is reported by some that the ships were to transfer their gold at sea to the German raider operating off Southe America but a man here in a position to know said that the gold is to go to Beunos Aires and that it is consigned from a bank in New York to pay for the large part of the new wool crop of the Argentine which as been bought by British and American interest in New York.

OBJECT TO WILSON'S PEACE PROGRAM

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 24.—The peace program of President Wilson came before both houses of the Canadian parliament tonight. Senator Ratos Pope gave notice of a resolution declaring that "only representatives of allied countries which have taken an active part in the present war" should participate in negotiations for peace.

W. F. Cockshutt, conservative in the lower house said:

"President Wilson's entrance into the war with his pen is mos inopportune. He had two years ago the opportunity by entering war with an army and a navy, to force peace ere this and he did not do so.

"The United States was bound by its signature to The Hague convention to protect the neutrality of Belgium. If their guarantee of peace and the protection of smaller nations is no better in the future than it has been in the past, peace and the smaller nations are better off without it."

Among the friends whom Miss Ryan made here was Mrs. Anna Engelman, who said today that she had received a letter from Miss Ryan, now at Ottawa, Canada, stating that she and Prinzler are to be married soon.

Prinzler before the birth of the child in an Ottawa hospital where Mrs. Matters is alleged to have obtained it, went to Europe with the Canadian troops. Miss Ryan according to testimony in the Chicago proceedings thought her baby dead until the news of the Matters will contest reached her.

Landis pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church. Mrs. H. C. Woltmaa sang at the opening and close of the service. The flowers were cared for by Miss Jessie Holmes, Miss Louise Holmes, Miss Anne Stevenson and Miss Florence Rice. Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery the bearers being, A. C. Rice, R. R. Rev. Mr. Landis used as a text Rev. 2-10, "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." He referred to faithfulness and loyalty as the chief characteristics in the life of Mrs. Waggoner. The minister said that in her unassuming and retiring way she went firmly along life's pathway, making very plain the spirit of loyalty and faithfulness as especially related to her home and church. The same thing was true of her friendships, and those who knew Mrs. Waggoner well were drawn to her closely. The faithfulness to the church was indicated by the fact that her membership, begun in 1863, continued thruout all her remaining days.

CHARLES SANDERS DIED SUDDENLY IN DETROIT

Message To Relatives Brought News Wednesday Afternoon.—No Particulars Received But Belief Is Held That Heart Disease was Cause of Death.

A telegram received Wednesday afternoon by Frank Elliott brought news of the sudden death of Charles Sanders at Detroit, Mich. The telegram was received from Judge W. B. Sanders, of Cleveland, brother of the deceased, who had received a message from Detroit.

No particulars are known other than that Mr. Sanders' death occurred at the Statler hotel in Detroit. He had been in ill health for several months and was on the way to a sanitarium in Michigan, where he expected to spend a number of weeks. While details are lacking, it is the supposition of relatives that Mr. Sanders' sudden death was caused by heart disease.

Practically all of Mr. Sanders' life has been spent in Jacksonville and he had an individual geniality that gave him the friendship of many people who will hear of his death with genuine regret. The body will be brought to this city for interment and announcement will be made in a later issue as to the time and place of the funeral services.

"MAY IRWIN" IN 33 WASHINGTON SQUARE

May Irwin will be seen here in the new comedy, "33 Washington Square" at the Grand Friday night.

She will come direct from her successful engagement at the Theater, New York City, Plymouth Theater, Boston and Geo. M. Cohan Grand, Chicago. The original cast and the production utilized there will be seen here.

In the new play Miss Irwin has a straight comedy, non-farcial and genuinely replete with the best of all fun, the situation laugh, developed with sprightly lines. It has been hailed as "the best play she ever had" by the critics of the New York Sun.

Miss Irwin has more recently become a national figure by her letter to President Wilson, suggesting the Department of Laughter, with her as its head, "to laugh out of court the pests and jingoes who are attempting to interfere with the executive in his foreign policy."

Miss Irwin's letter came at a psychological moment and caused an effective wave of laughter to spread over the country at a time when foreign "conversation" threatened to reach a feverish heat.

EDMUND BURKE NOMINATED FOR JUDGE

Springfield, Jan. 24.—Former State's Attorney Edmund Burke of Springfield was made the Democratic nominee for circuit court judge in the seventh judicial district. No other nominations were made and Mr. Burke was declared the choice by unanimous vote. The candidate when informed of the action taken came to the court room and after expressing his appreciation made an address of 15 or 20 minutes.

Mr. Humphreys is spending his time his time visiting various churches in the Presbytery. The purpose in securing his services has been to increase in the work of the church along some special lines.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Journal appears in unusual form and in eight pages this morning because of the scarcity of news print. A car of paper consigned to the Journal Company has been in transit for more than two weeks, but has not yet been received. For a number of days the Journal has been borrowing paper of a certain size from the Courier and now the supply of both papers has reached the danger point. A shipment to the Courier has also been delayed several weeks. Because of this situation the Journal may appear in unusual form for several days but the receipt of the car of paper is confidently expected before the week closes.

The scarcity which prevails here is an index of conditions elsewhere and in a number of cities papers have been compelled to suspend publication temporarily pending the receipt of paper shipments.

TWO DAMAGE SUITS FILED IN CIRCUIT COURT

Action Brought by Mrs. Joaquin Against Walter McCormick as Result of Auto Crash—Powder Explosion at Bluffs Basis of Suit Against Wabash Road

Indications are that the February term of the circuit court will be quite busy as suits are being added to the docket now every day. There were four filed Wednesday, several of them of more than usual interest.

Auto Accident Cause of Suit

H. P. Samuell as attorney for Mrs. Rena Joaquin has filed an action against Walter McCormick asking damages in the sum of $10,000. This suit comes as the result of an automobile accident which happened Sept. 27, 1916, at the corner of College and South Main streets. Mr. McCormick's automobile crashed into a street car in which Mrs. Joaquin was a passenger. Only the praecipe in the suit has been filed but it is understood that damages are asked because of the serious injuries which is is alleged Mrs. Joaquin sustained. Following the accident she was for many weeks in the hospital and much of the time at the Norbury sanatorium. It is understood that the declaration will set forth that Mrs. Joaquin has spent as the result of the accident approximately $2,500 in doctors' bills and for hospital charges.

Damages Asked from Wabash

Another suit filed by Mr. Samuell is that of Ivan Muller by his next friend, W. G. Muller, against the Wabash railroad. This suit is the result of an accident which happened at Bluffs, Nov. 6, 1915, when the complainant was severely burned as the result of a powder explosion. The claim is made that Ivan Muller went with two Wabash employes to a place near the round house to show them where two bags or kegs of powder were concealed. The Wabash employes had torches and it is alleged that these torches were taken so close to the powder that the explosion occurred in which young Muller was injured.

At a former term of court a like suit was brought, alleging damages in the sum of $10,000, and on motion of the Wabash railroad thru their attorneys, Bellatti, Bellatti, & Moriarty, Judge Creighton ruled that it was a case for federal court jurisdiction—that the law provides that for sums involving more than $3,000 that suit must be brought in the federal court. In the present instance, therefore, Mr. Samuell has alleged damages in the sum of $2,999 in order to be within the $3,000 limit.

Still another suit is that of foreclosure filed by Mr. Samuell in behalf of Illinois college against W. P. Six. This ball alleges the failure to pay interest on a sum of $4,000 borrowed on land situated in 35-14-9.

REV. FRANK READ'S USEFUL LIFE CLOSED WEDNESDAY

Deceased Prominent Many Years As Educator Among the Deaf—Combined Teaching, Editorial and Ministerial Work.

The death of Rev. Franklin Read occurred at 6:25 o'clock Wednesday morning at his home, 222 Sandusky street. For a long period Mr. Read has been gradually losing strength and his death was but the slipping away into another world as his earthly strength finally faded.

It was in 1863 that Mr. Read returned to Jacksonville to take a position at the State School for the Deaf, which had been offered him by Dr. Philip G. Gillett, the superintendent. He filled that position with satisfaction and continued his connection with the school for thirty-seven years. He was a valuable member of the teaching faculty and his retirement in 1900 because of ill health meant a loss to the school. Mr. Read came of an excellent family and was born Dec. 11, 1840, in Florida, Orange county, N. Y.

Family Came from New York.

His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Read. When he was a child the family moved from New York to this state, settling in a neighborhood about fifteen miles from Quincy. Those were the days before the railroads reached into this western country and the trip over land was made in covered wagons. A few years after the farm home in Illinois had been established Mrs. Read died. It was not until after her sad going that the father found that his son Franklin was deaf. The lad could head loud sounds but could not understand speech. The father did all possible for the training of his son and when the boy had reached the age of eleven years it was determined to send him to the State School for the Deaf in this city. He enrolled as a student a number of years later than is the rule with children but because of his industry and his desire for knowledge, this late start did not prove a handicap and in the course of several years he had made such progress that he was in classes with boys and girls of his own age.

Having completed the full course and obtained his diploma, he went from this city to Alton and secured a position as an apprentice in a printing shop. It was to that city the year following, as already indicated, that Dr. Gillett sent the young man the offer of a position at the institution here. It is related that immediately following his graduation Mr. Read, imbued with the patriotic spirit of 1862, organized a company of deaf mutes and offered their services to the government. Because of their lack of hearing the government did not think it wise to accept the proffered support.

Married in 1865.

September 21, 1865, Mr. Read was married to Miss Cassie Smith, friend of his childhood. She had been a pupil at the Illinois school, having entered the institution in 1859 at the age of thirteen. September 21, 1915, Mr. and Mrs. Read celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, which was made an occasion of great interest not only to members of the family but to a wide circle of friends.

The deceased is survived by Mrs. Read and their four sons, Frank Read, Jr., now superintendent of the State School for the Deaf at Devils Lake, North Dakota; J. Philip Read of this city, instructor in the Illinois conservatory of music; Rev. Uttene Read, pastor of the church for the deaf at Cincinnati, and Elmer D. Read, instructor at the school for the deaf at Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Established Paper for Deaf.

In addition to his duties as a teacher Mr. Read found time for the publication of the Deaf Mute Advocate, a paper devoted to the interests of non-hearing people. The suggestion for publication of this paper came to Mr. Read from Dr. Gillett. At the time there was only one other such paper published in the United States and that the Ohio Chronicle. Beginning with 1870 Mr. Read was the editor and publisher of the Advocate for a period of twenty-nine years, and he devoted himself to this work with great interest and ability.

Of deep religious character, Mr. Read in 1870 became active in the organization and incorporation of the Northwestern Deaf Mute Christian association. The purpose of this society was to promote the spiritual welfare of the deaf. Mr. Read's interest in the organization was strong from the beginning and it proved a source of good influence for many lives. In 1883 Mr. Read was ordained a minister of the Congregational church and thus added to his duties as teacher and publisher those of minister. Services were held in a number of cities especially for the deaf and Mr. Read was the principal factor in the establishment of three interdenominational churches for the deaf, located in St. Louis, Jacksonville and Rock Island. The church at Rock Island was for the deaf of Davenport, Rock Island and Moline.

Deep Interest In Education.

As Mr. Read had been one of the most useful and able students ever graduated from the Illinois school it was natural that he should be chosen as president of the alumni association of the school in 1877 when it was organized. In other ways Mr. Read made clear his zeal for learning and not satisfied with his school course, sometime subsequent to graduation took the chautauqua reading circle literary course and when his oldest son, Frank, was a student at Illinois college the father studied each day with his son and so took the entire college course. All of the four sons were given a college education, Rev. Mr. Read believing that in this way he was best preparing his sons to meet the duties of citizenship.

Since the days of his retirement from active teaching work because of the condition of his health Rev. Mr. Read has lived a somewhat retired life in this city but has continued to exert a strong influence for good, especially among deaf mutes, in this city and in many others. He was frequently called upon by deaf people for advice and addressed their gatherings. Thru his life he made a very substantial contribution to the education of the deaf and tho he has now passed on to his final reward, the works that he wrought and the influence that he had will live on thru many decades to come. He was indeed a man of high ideals, of Christian culture and earnest purpose and it can well be written of him that he "has not lived in vain."

The arrangements for the funeral will not be announced until information has been received when the sons will be able to reach Jacksonville. Rev. Frank Read is located at the most distant point and it was uncertain last night as to when he will arrive.

Kidney Trouble May Cause Dropsical Swellings

Foley Kidney Pills Highly Recommended For This Condition

Dropsy, with all its signs and symptoms, including weak heart, general debility, swollen joints, ankles and limbs; headache, sleeplessness and nervousness, are all evidence of a certain kind of kidney trouble. Irregular bladder action, too frequent passage of water, and rising time after time at night, are also proof that the kidneys are not in a healthy state.

Foley Kidney Pills have handled just such cases with absolute success. They have cleared away the dropsical condition, have restored the kidneys to normal activity, and brought the sufferer to a state of sound health.

Mrs. Hattie Graham, Box 479, Battle Creek, Mich., has written fully in regard to her case. We quote only part of her letter which says: "I was troubled with kidney and bladder trouble that finally developed into dropsy. I had a dull pain in my back, first my ankles swelled up, and then the whole lower part of my body became bloated and swollen. I used Foley Kidney Pills and the relief was immediate, and after using them for sometime, I feel permanently cured."

Foley Kidney Pills are sold everywhere in 50c and $1.00 sizes. The $1.00 size is the more economical buy, as it contains 2½ times as many as the 50c size.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Silas Terry

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society.)

Among the distinguished families of Connecticut and of New York state was that known as the Terry connection. Gen. A. H. Terry, who took Ft. Fisher, during our Civil War—and was a capable and prominent officer — and his sister, Rose Terry Cooke, the author, were of this lineage, and best known.

The family had a number of leading people in it, in the East, and one, presumably of that relationship, came to Jacksonville, and did here an efficient service, thru long years, to this community. Some of the monuments of his work still remain to his credit.

Silas Terry was born in Riverhead, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1816—over a hundred years ago. At the age of eighteen years he went to learn the trade of a carpenter, and, fortunately, had a careful, competent and exacting master. So the young man became exceptionally skilled, and, being well informed and of high character, he was an asset of value to the place in which he dwelt. Mr. Terry and one Thomas D. Morgan came west in 1837, intending to stop at Chicago, but when they gazed upon that quagmire it did not appeal to Mr. Morgan, and the young men came to Jacksonville. E. T. Miller was Mr. Terry's first employer here, and they built the Rockwell house, now occupied by Mrs. Lilly Rockwell Frost on West State street at the head of Diamond Court.

Miller and Terry also built the fine homestead residence of Mr. Jacob Strawn—recently destroyed by fire—four miles south-west of here.

Mr. Terry soon went to work for himself, and had charge of the building of many well known and valuable structures. He had charge of the original part of the Hospital for the Insane—now known as "the Centre." He also built the residences of David A. Smith, and of Edward Lambert on Jordan street and many lesser buildings. He had charge of the erection of Sturtevant Hall, at Illinois College, and he constructed Strawn's Hall, afterwards called Strawn's Opera House, now known as Armory Hall. At the time it was built this was one of two or three fine play houses in the state, outside of Chicago, and the whole block was built exceptionally well, as Mr. Strawn would have it and as Mr. Terry could do it. The foundation was laid in July, 1859, and the Hall was opened by the Berger family of Bell Ringers, in February, 1861.

The building and subsequent residential uses of the houses of a town is an interesting study. Mr. Terry built the house—southeast corner of State and Kosciusko streets—afterwards occupied by the W. N. Ross family. It was burned about 1870, and the present house then took its place. Mr. Terry would build and occupy a house, then sell it and move to another. He next built and occupied the house now moved back, at the north-west corner of State and Kosciusko streets. It was later the home of Dr. J. M. Retter and of Mrs. Dayton, then L. Seeberger bought it, and built in its place the present residence of Dr. Griswold. Mr. Terry then built the house since moved around, west—on Jordan street—at the north-east corner of Court and Prairie streets. Terry then built and moved into the brick house now known as the Allen place, at the south-east corner of Jordan and Prairie streets. Then he built the frame house, just east of the brick, on Jordan street. From there he made quite a jump, to the north-east corner of State and West, where the Duncan building now is. This Terry house was a good sized brick building, two stories high, and Mr. Terry had a sort of planing mill on the Court street end of the lot. A little brick house stood for many years on the site of this new Terry house, and in that little Lucas house, Mr. Terry found his first boarding place, when he came to Jacksonville.

Mr. Terry was married, in the Lucas house, to Miss Mary A. Mumper, in 1840. Mrs. Terry was a relative of the Gregory family, with whom she came from Pennsylvania, in the early days of Jacksonville. The Terrys had one son, James M. Terry.

Mr. Terry's last large job was in superintending the erection of the State Street Presbyterian church, at the north east corner of State and Church streets. It was built in 1884-5, and was then the largest church edifice in this city.

Mr. Terry, went from the State street house last named to a residence on South Main street, where his wife died, in August, 1893. After the death of his wife, Mr. Terry went out into the Markham neighborhood, north west of Jacksonville, where he spent his remaining days on a farm with his son and the latter's family. Mr. Terry died about Sept. 5, 1894.

The Terry family were attendants at the old First Presbyterian church, of which it is probable that both Mr. and Mrs. Terry were members.

In addition to the other things he did, Historian Eames credits Mr. Terry in Eames' list of first things in Jacksonville, as being the first Windsor chair maker in the town. This list was according to Mr. Anderson Foreman's say so.

A critic wrote this about the "O. J." series: "In your historical sketch of West State street you left out one, in my opinion, very important resident, namely, Silas Terry. He came to Jacksonville in 1837, and lived on West State street most of the time until 1892." The reply to that is, that Mr. Terry did not live on State street in 1857, the time under consideration. He lived on Prairie street then, and before and after, but he lived for years on State street.

Politically, Mr. Terry was a Union man; but he was so quiet and retiring that he never was intrusive in public matters, altho not at all incapable of speaking out when he chose to do so.

At the time of his death, the following words were used, as part of the obituary article:

"Mr. Terry's character was eminent for integrity wherever he was known. He was often intrusted with important matters and was ever faithful and worthy of confidence which was placed in him. He was kind and affectionate in his family, and always a firm and steadfast friend."

James M. Terry

Jas. M. Terry, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Terry was born in Jacksonville, August 20, 1846. He attended the old West District School, and spent a year at Illinois College. He was but a boy when the Civil War began, but he enlisted in Co. B, 10th Illinois Infantry in February, 1864, serving until July 1865—three months after the war ended. Jan. 29, 1869, he was married to Miss Mary E. Ayers daughter of Mr. Daniel W. Ayers, a well known resident of this city and county.

Mr. Terry engaged in farming, which was his occupation most of his life. Latterly he came back to town, and now lives in Quincy, this state.

Mrs. Mary Ayers Terry died Nov. 27, 1903.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry were the parents of:

Mary Ann, who was married to George F. La Rue, well known here, and connected with the Courier.

Woodward Silas, now of Moorhead, Miss., where he runs a plantation and is in business. Mr. Terry married Miss Carrie Elkins, and they have one daughter.

Lillian B., who married W. R. Moody, of this place.

Charles M., now of Portland, Oregon, where he married.

Eugene, now a resident of the state of Idaho. He married since going there.

Marguerite, married, and living in Chicago.

Eulalia, who married Albert Fisher, of Hammond, Ind.

Eddie, who died in infancy. Another child died young.

KNIT GOODS MEN AROUSED

Asheville, N. C., Jan. 24—Knit goods manufacturers from many parts of the south met in special convention here today to consider the dangers that are said to threaten the industry in America. One of the most important questions confronting the manufacturers is that of an adequate tariff for the knit goods industry. The action of the British Government in holding up shipments of German needles consigned to this country is another problem that is worrying the American manufacturers of knit goods.

WILL SOON LAUNCH BIG BATTLESHIP

Mississippi Now Nearing Completion in Yards at Newport News

Newport News, Va., Jan. 24—Everything is in readiness for the launching of the battleship Mississippi, now nearing completion at the yards of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. When the mammoth vessel slides down the ways, Miss Camilla McBeath, a pretty society belle of Meridan, Miss., will give the new sea fighter the name of her native state. The launching will be attended by the heads of the Navy Department at Washington and an official delegation representing the State of Mississippi.

The Mississippi will be one of the most powerful battleships in the world. She is a sister ship of the Idaho, now under construction at the yards of the New York Shipbuilding Company. Her principal dimensions are as follows: Length over all, 624 feet; beam, 7 feet 9 1-2 inches; displacement, 32,000 tons; horsepower, 32,000.

The battleship if it could be transported to a city street, would cover more than three blocks, filling the thorofare completely from side to side, to the roofs of five-story buildings, with the military masts towering 100 feet still further in the air; or, if stood on end alongside with the Washington monument, with stern on the ground, the bow would tower 69 feet above the top of that monument.

The Mississippi will have four screws and a speed of twenty-one knots. Her main battery will consist of twelve 14-inch and twenty-five 5-inch guns, and her secondary battery will have four 3-pounders and four 21-inch torpedo tubes. The 14-inch guns will be mounted in four turrets, three in each turret. The weight of metal thrown at a broadside of the twelve 14-inch guns is approximately 17,000 pounds, and the amount of powder used in each broadside is 4800 pounds.

NEW SPRING WAISTS IN MANY PRETTY MODELS AND MATERIALS, JUST RECEIVED AT HERMAN'S.

TO SAVE SEA ISLAND COTTON

Valdosta, Ga., Jan. 24—Sea Island cotton growers of Florida, Georgia and South Carolina assembled in convention here today to learn from the Georgia State Board of Entomology how to preserve the industry in spite of the Mexican boll weevil which now threatens its complete destruction.

The reason the entire sea island cotton industry is threatened by the boll weevil is that all present varieties of this staple mature in August and September, which is very late, and gives the insects a chance to get in their worst work. The weevil has already covered the sea island cotton areas of Georgia and Florida and threatens an early invasion of South Carolina.

To overcome the havoc wrought by the insects it is necessary to develop early maturing varieties of the cotton which would come to fruit and be gathered in advance of weevil destruction. The Georgia State Board of Entomology foresaw the necessity of this, and five or six years ago began a series of experiments in Lowndes county. As a result of these experiments four varieties of sea island cotton have been developed which fruit in June, July and early August, or an average of nearly two months earlier than now grown.

R. B. Hulhorst of Peoria spent Wednesday in the city on business.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE WILL PLAY AUGUSTINE TONIGHT

Visitors are Said to be Putting up Good Game of Ball This Season

Illinois College will have the Augustana five as opponents in Armory hall tonight. The game will start at 8 o'clock and Callihan will be the referee.

Augustana has a team of tall rangy men and they are touted as one of the strong teams of the conference. Swedeberg who plays at center has played for the past four years, this being his fifth season. Coach Harmon regards him as one of the best centers in the state. Sundeson, floor guard is playing his fourth year and is also considered a strong man.

Very little is known of Augustana except by game with Bradley which was won by Bradley. However, by way of comparison, we have two games which Augustana played with Illinois in the conference tournament. In 1914 Illinois eliminated Augustana by a score of 35 to 19. In 1916 Illinois again eliminated the Swedes by a score of 34 to 29. However, Coach Harmon considers that Augustana was not in true form the last time, being somewhat discouraged by a previous defeat in which brilliant basketball was displayed.

Illinois will be in better condition than she was in the Millikin game. Tomlinson's ankle continues to improve and he will be better than on Monday night. Cox, whom it was reported a few days ago was ruptured and would be out for the rest of the season is again in condition. It was found that he was suffering from a severe strain. Harmon, however, will hold him in reserve tonight unless something unforseen arises.

The five to oppose Augustana will be selected from the following: Gaylard, Hill, Barnes and Cox, forwards; Tomlinson, Dunscomb, centers; Pierce, Spink and Sooy guards.

Speaking of the game Wednesday evening Coach Harmon said, "It would be impossible to predict that a better game would be seen than the one with Millikin. However, I look for a game very similar and to win Illinois will have to show the best basketball in her repertoire."

BUSINESS COLLEBE DEFEATED BY FRANKLIN

Independents Win Fast Basketball Game 23 to 21—Other Games Scheduled at Franklin

The Brown's Business College basketball team went to Franklin Wednesday evening and came within two points of winning on the Franklin floor. At the close of the first half the score stood 17 to 9 in favor of the Independents. The real surprise came in the second half, when the tables were turned and the Business college boys began to walk ahead. The playing was fast and furious until the referee blew "time" and the lead still remained with Franklin, the score against the Brownies standing 23 to 21. Hart was knocked out in the last five minutes of play and H. Teaney took his place.

Basketball will be a popular game at Franklin for the next few days. Saturday night the Girard team will come and the Independents hope to wipe out the sting of a recent defeat and show the Macoupin county lads what real basketball is like. Friday evening, Feb. 2 the Independents will meet the Pawnee Y. M. C. A. at Franklin.

Franklin High school has a game scheduled Friday evening, when Palmyra High school will come to play on the Marquette Hall floor.

'THE SUPREME PRIVILEGE' REVIVALIST'S THEME

Large Congregation Greets the Rev. E. L. Pletcher at Centenary M. E. Church Wednesday Night

"The Supreme Privilege" was the theme of the Rev. E. L. Pletcher Wednesday evening at what was perhaps the best attended of the week-day services since the beginning of the revival series. Mr. Fraser sang "I Know He Is Mine" and Mr. Fraser and A. C. Metcalf sang a duet.

Officers and Teachers assembled after the service and planned for concerted work on the part of the Sunday school in promotion of the series. The service was preceded by a brief prayer hour.

A successful service was held Wednesday noon at the Illinois Steel Bridge Co. Mr. Pletcher spoke on "The Lost Coin" and Secretary Findley of the Y. M. C. A., H. A. Brewer and Mr. Fraser assisted with song.

Mr. Pletcher addressed the pupils of David Prince school at the chapel hour Wednesday forenoon. Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock a number of children gathered for song rehersal and will probably appear with a chorus song Saturday night.

The reports for the cottage prayer meetings showed that they were well attended this morning by both men and women. This is considered an indication of a deepening interest in the meetings. The following meetings were announced for this morning in each of the wards:

First ward—Mrs. Christena Green, 718 North Main street; C. O. Bayha, leader.

Second ward—Mrs. Carrie Phillips, 622 W. State street; S. Graham Fraser, leader.

Third ward—J. F. Kitner, 409 East College avenue; Mrs. T. H. Rapp, leader.

So far during the services the Rev. Mr. Pletcher with the supreme questions of Christianity and of life. The subject for last night was "The Supreme Privilege," and the text was John 1-12: "But as many as received him, to them he gave the right to become the children of God."

Some things in life, we may demand, said the speaker by way of introduction. We may demand but they are very few. There are a great many privileges of life and among these is the privilege of living in this age of the world when science, invention and a better understanding of life have done so much.

While the terrible war caused men to doubt if this statement was true, to us especially was it a great privilege to live in a country that was at peace. There was also the privilege of association in the home and with certain rare characters who inspire and call us to better things.

On this text, John emphasizes the right and privilege to be a Jew, the people to whom God had wonderfully manifested himself, and who were entitled to be called the "chosen people." It was once the boast and a great privilege to be a citizen of Rome, because the majesty of Roman law and authority extended itself over the civilized world.

But by far the greatest privilege given to man is the right to be a child of God, because the boast of the Jew and the Roman are included in this claim. Men too often make the mistake of believing that God is favored when they serve him when the only favor is to man himself. All that is good in life, all that is worth while comes from Him.

It is a great privilege to have the comfort and hope of the gospel and the privilege of Christian service is the greatest thing in any community.

In closing the speaker considered a single life born of holy wedlock—Christian matrimony, which is always under Christian influences, comforted in its sorrow, sustained in its trials and with its joys increased. Such a life is inspired and its end is one of peace.

To such a life every public worship and Christian service is a great privilege as it is one of a select company. This is the great privilege given to the world because it brings joy, possibility and destiny.

DELAY CONSIDERATION OF TEARNEY'S PLAN

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—The inability of club owners of the Central League to join the re-districting plan of the Three-I League and Central association caused further consideration of the movement to be indefinitely postponed at a meeting here today.

President A. R. Tearney of the Three-I League and Mayor J. F. Ford of Fort Dodge, Ia., president of the Central association, agreed that no action could be taken for the present at least.

"We have not dropped the plan," said President Ford. "On the contrary we are much stronger for it. As Mr. Tearney has warned, the leagues must re-district or they will not be able to survive."

President Tearney plans to call a meeting of the Three-I League club owners to discuss the situation. The meeting probably will be held in Chicago within ten days.

SPORT NOTES

Indianapolis, Jan. — The 1917 baseball season is declared officially "on" here with the arrival of Jack Hendricks, manager of the Indianapolis American Association club. Hendricks says he has a good chance to get Steve Yerkes, the Chicago National's second baseman, whose place will be filled next season, he thinks, by Larry Doyle. The deal, it is said hinges on whether Doyle's foot is in shape for him to start season with the Cubs.

Minneapolis, Jan. — The marriage of Harold F. Hanson, halfback of the 1916 football team of the University of Minnesota, and his subsequent withdrawal from the university, leaves Coach Williams with a task of filling Hanson's position on this year's team. The brilliant line plunging of the speedy Gopher halfback was especially effective in the Wisconsin and Chicago games. Hanson was secretly married to Miss Florence Hosford of Eau Claire, Wis. and the event was not made known to even their intimate friends for a week.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. — Nearly 250 high schools have been invited to compete in the first annual interscholastic basketball tournament to be held under the auspices of the University of Michigan. The tournament will be held March 22, 23 and 24 in the new Waterman gymnasium. The winning team will be declared the state champions.

Gold fobs in the form of basketball will be presented to members and coaches of the winning team, and individual cups to the runners up. Special cups may be awarded to the player scoring the highest number of points, and to the guard who is scored on the least number of times.

Seven men is the allowed entry of each team whose only expense will be transportation.

Bloomington, Ind., Jan. — Football practice has been started at Indiana University. Seventeen men have reported to Coach E. O. Stiehm.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. — Vic Saier, first baseman of the Chicago Nationals, whose sight was thought to be failing him, has assured President Weeghman of the Chicago club, that his eyes have regained their normal strength after a winter's rest. Saier is a movie fan and the theory was that he had damaged his eyes watching the flickering light on the screen and sitting up late reading. He avoided any strain whatever during the winter months and now believes he is as good as ever.

Columbus, O., Jan. — Robert B. Nevin of Youngstown, O., has been elected captain of the Ohio State University track team to succeed Karl S. Day, who resigned. This is Nevin's third year on the 'varsity track and cross country teams.

Detroit, Jan. — Oscar Hendrian, one of the best football players ever turned out at the Central high school of Detroit, may soon enter Michigan, it is reported. Hendrian played on the DePauw university eleven last autumn. The backfield star has not given any reason for the reported action but it is believed he wants to be closer to his home.

St. Louis, Jan. — Reese Williams, pitcher, and Joe Lotz, have been released by the St. Louis Nationals to the St. Paul American Association team. Manager Huggins, of the St. Louis club is trying to trade Owen Wilson, outfielder, and Tony Brottem, catcher to Toledo or Louisville. Huggins wants to land Jack Northrup, the Louisville pitcher.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. — Yachtmen in Detroit and nearby cities believe that small boat racing will be unusually popular this year. Buffalo and Cleveland yacht clubs have joined a movement to boost the star-design boats. These crafts are a little longer than an ordinary cat-boat but have less beam and are of keep instead of center-board design.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. — The chief batsman of the National league has been entertaining the chief batsman of the American league here and so modest are both of these celebreties that it was not until the latter had departed that his presence was generally known. Tris Speaker, the leading slugger of the American League paid a visit to Hal Chase of the Cincinnati team, spending five days with him.

FROM THE EDUCATOR'S NOTEBOOK

Alfred Noyes, the celebrated British poet, has returned to America to resume the advanced English course he has been conducting at Princeton University for two years past. He left America last May upon the completion of this course to offer his services for war work to his native land, and has since been busily engaged in relief work of various descriptions, assisted by his wife, who is an American, formerly Miss Garnett Daniels, daughter of the late Col. B. G. Daniels, U. S. A. They will return to England in May. The poet has always had many affiliations with America, besides his marriage and his connection with Princeton. He gave the Lowell lectures, in Boston, on "The Sea in English Poetry" in 1913, and has lectured in most of America's best known educational institutions. Several of his books have been published in America, and he has been a copious contributor to American periodicals. Yale has conferred upon him the honorary degree of Litt. D.

A much changed Oxford, and changed in a manner of particular interest to American students, will be one of the probable results of the war. There is a serious movement on foot to induce the ancient British university to organize graduate work and to open the degrees of doctor of letters and doctor of science to advanced students. This will be particularly good news to the American Rhodes scholars, who have often complained that their three years of residence at Oxford gives them no other degree than that they have already obtained here. Piling an Oxford A. B. on top of a Harvard or Columbia A. B. does not greatly help a man obtain a good academic appointment in the United States, where the doctorate has now come to be looked upon almost as a requirement for a collegiate teaching position. However, it is not the Rhodes scholars for whom ancient Oxford is gunning, and thus preparing to abandon some of its exclusiveness. The university appreciates the fact that many Americans who have been in the habit of going to Europe for their higher education will henceforth sidestep Germany, and go either to England or to France. Oxford wants its share of these learned visitors, and it knows that it can not obtain them unless it offers something better than the bachelor's degree for what is in reality doctorate work.

Professor Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard University, the noted historian and writer, is chairman of the committee in charge of the educational features of the Congress of Constructive Patriotism to be held in Washington this week, Jan. 25-27, under the auspices of the National Security League and in the interests of better military, naval, and industrial preparedness for the United States. Nearly fifty colleges and universities will be represented at the congress. The object is to establish, thru the league's efforts, a great national lecture system under the direction of experts who will take up the presentation of national topics in a non-partisan and non-political way, in full sympathy with the spirit of American institutions and in complete understanding of the industrial and agricultural viewpoint of all sections of the country. Senator Borah of Idaho will deliver the main address on the educational feature at the congress.

Dr. William Wistar Comfort, who will succeed Dr. Isaac Sharpless in June as president of Haverford college, has been since 1909 head of the department of Romance languages at Cornell University, and is one of the noted authorities on this subject and has spent several years of study in Germany and France. He is the author of several books, and of many articles in journals devoted to philology and linguistics.

CHARITY BOARD COMMITTEE TO MEET FRIDAY

A call has been issued by A. C. Rice, chairman of the committee appointed to present a basis on organization for the associated charities of Jacksonville. This meeting will be held Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the public library. The committee to which the matter was referred has drafted a constitution and by-laws based upon the working plan of similar organizations in other cities. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of the members of the general committee at the meeting tomorrow night so that some definite action can be taken.

J. A. Brown of Alexander was in the city yesterday, on business with the Jeffery Motor Sales company. Mr. Brown is a sub-agent for the Jeffery.

Stop Rheumatism Before It Takes Hold

You can do it by keeping your blood clean. The kidneys filter about 500 grains of uric acid and other salts from the blood every 24 hours. When there is more than the kidneys can remove, it is deposited in muscles and joints, and painful rheumatism follows. S. S. S., for 50 years the most efficient of all blood tonics, will keep the blood pure and prevent disease. At your druggists.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. You can now get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Just massage Musterole in with the finger tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

TRADING IN STOCKS AGAIN VERY LIMITED

U. S. Steel and Other Speculative Favorites Contribute Fully 60 Per Cent of Total

New York, Jan. 24.—Operations on the stock exchange today were again very limited as to scope and volume. United States steel and other speculative favorites contributed fully 60 percent to the day's meagre total of 385,000 shares.

Bethlehem Steel moved between 435 and 446, closing at the latter figure, a net gain of 17 points. United States steel made only a nominal advance.

Shippings and oils were irregularly higher and tractions recovered much of yesterday's setback. Pressed steel car scored a net loss of a fraction.

The paper group was heavy and listless most of the time, but responded to an extra dividend on the new shares of the Union Bag and Paper corporation.

Rails were more prominent than recently, displaying general strength in the final hour when Norfolk and Western rose 3⅜ points on declaration of an extra 1 per cent dividend. Long Island added more than five points to its steady gain of the past week, selling at 47½, its highest quotation in many years. Reading, Atchison and Toledo, St. Louis and Western comprised the other strong features of the railway list.

Exchange on Petrograd and Rome continued to decline their new minimums showing discounts of from 40 to almost 50 per cent but rates on the Teutonic countries were slightly harder.

Bonds were irregular with slight concessions in industrial issues. Total sales (par value) aggregated $4,290,000.

UNFAVORABLE CROP REPORTS LIFT WHEAT

Strengthen July and September Deliveries But Proves Ineffective as to May Option—Corn and Oats Rise

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Unfavorable crop reports from Kansas, Nebraska nd Oklahoma did a god eal today to strengthen the July and September deliveries of wheat but were ineffective as to the May option. The market closed nervous at $1.84½ to 1.84¼ May and $1.53¼ to 1.53⅜ July, with the market as a whole ⅛c off to 2⅝c up as compared with yesterday's finish. Corn gained ⅝c to ¾c and oats a shade to ⅛c. The outcome in provisions ranged from 7½c decline to 5c advance.

According to a leading authority advices regarding more than half of the Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahom crop were adverse on account of lack of moisture and because of absence of snow protection. The market early showed considerable weakness as a result largely of the aloofnes of foreign buyers as well as because of continued peace talk and German naval activities.

Announcement of big export clearances helped to harden wheat prices in the last half of the day. Besides, primary receipts were small at 605,000 bushels as against 1,565,000 bushels last year.

Big export takings of corn estimated at 1,000,000 bushels put strength into that cereal. It was predicted that Argentine shipments would hereafter be greatly diminished if not altogether stopped. Oats rose with corn. Sales of 500,000 bushels of oats to Europe were reported.

Higher quotations on hogs lifted provisions. British cables telling of apprehension as to a possible shortage of supplies tended further to stimulate buying.

FARM NOTES

Poultry Campaign Starts Next Week

Next week the Farm Bureau will hold a poultry campaign covering all of the towns of the county which the schedule can be made to fit. Prog. D. O. Barto who is head of the Poultry Department at the Illinois Experiment Station, Urbana will be with us the entire week. He knows the business and is a splendid speaker. The aim will be to discuss the poultry business from the farmers' standpoint and the meeting will be free and open to everyone who wishes to attend.

The poultry business is coming to be an important side line in Tazewell County farming. The Farm Bureau has done nothing with it in the past except to hold a few demonstration meetings because so many other important things demended attention. During this year a special effort will be made to help those farmers and farmers' wives who are interested in poultry to make that business as successful and profitable as possible. Prof. Barto will tell us of surprisingly large profits from poultry in his own experience and under his own management. He will show how easy it is to handle farm poultry successfully. He will bring along demonstration material so as to make the lectures as practical as possible and enable all who hear him to take use of his instruction to improve their own management of poultry. There should be a big crowd at every meeting to hear Prof. Barto.

Morton Short Course

The Morton Short Course will be held next week. The program as worked out by the Morton Community Club begins Monday morning with a discussion of Soils by J. E. Whitecraft and of Farm Crops by H. A. Winter. In the afternoon there will be instruction in judging dairy and beef cattle by Wm. F. Hedgecock, Peoria County Agent. On Tuesday morning there will be more instruction in Soils by J. E. Whitecraft and Farm Crops by H. A. Winter. In the afternoon Prof. T. Robbins will give instruction in Horse Judging. On Thursday morning H. A. Winter will teach Farm Crops and I. W. Dickerson will teach Farm Mechanics. In the afternoon J. E. Whitecraft will teach Soils and I. W. Dickerson Gas Engines. On Friday morning and afternoon J. E. Whitecraft will teach Soils and H. A. Winter, Farm Crops. During the week there will also be instruction in Domestic Science in charge of Miss Nina B. Crigler and this department will be in session a day at Lynn next to the Opera House. Each evening during the week there will be a special program. On Monday evening by Prof. D. O. Barto. On Tuesday evening a play "Back to the Farm" will be given by the Morton Community Girl Household Science Clubs. On Wednesday Mr. Frank C. Gennis, Will County Adviser, will give a lantern slide lecture on Farm Bureau Work in Will Co. On Thursday evening there will be an entertainment by the Normal University Glee Club. On Friday Prof. F. C. Krueger will lecture on "The School House as a Social Center." E. T. Robbins, County Agricultural Agent.

THE INTERDEPENDENCE OF INDUSTRY

In this year of 1916 the market value of crops of Illinois farms is estimated at more than four hundred million dollars and all crops will find ready sale. Our crops will go to market to be turned out as flour and meat, and to be in turn transported to market centers where needed.

Without banks, telegraph and telephone, railroads, and others aid to commerce, good prices would not come to the farmers of Illinois. Mills would not run if there were no banks to finance them, no railroads to haul the raw materials to them, and the finished products to other markets.

Manufacturers could not do business without a demand for their products and transportation to haul them.

The transportation of goods from where they are produced but not needed to where they are not produced but needed is business. To keep up this continuous exchange and transfer, requires expert knowledge of conditions and markets, and is the province of the merchant. So all business is closely interwoven and intertwined.

The banker, the merchant, the railroadman, the manufacturer, the capitalist, the laborer, the farmer, all find a useful, needful something to do in this great growing commerce of ours, and not one of these agencies is independent of the others.

Agriculture had its real development from the growth of the manufacturing industry, yet even with its present gigantic proportions, even now it is still dependent on manufacturing for future development and prosperity.

Indeed, few of our industries could survive without agriculture but it, too, needs the banker, the merchant, the capitalist, the manufacturer, the laborer, the mechanic to serve it.

No industry, no business, in this country, is wholly independent. Each one is dependent on others. Each industry should look with fair and just eyes on the other, knowing and recognizing the usefulness of each and the interdependence of all. We should know that when we progress we must progress together, that when business is poor and affects degree, that like it must affect all in degree, that like the parts of the wonderful "one hoss shay," each is useless without the others.

The same interdependence holds good in the Community. The farmer needs the banker, the miller, the railroadman, the merchant, the teacher, the preacher, etc., and they, each and all, need the farmer. All interests in the Community are closely related. When the Community loses, all lose.—(Farmers' Review.)

GOOD PRICES FOR CORN.

A well known farmer, S. S. Sheppard, of the south part of the county, says he has a large pen of corn and has refused 97 cents a bushel for it and feels certain it will be worth a dollar before long. He says at the present price of pork a man with good hogs can get out all right at the present price of corn. He says he could have sold two hundred bushels out of his crib at a dollar but was unwilling to break into the pile as he preferred to sell all at once.

Farm Lands Very Active

There is undoubtedly an unusual activity in Morgan county farm lands at present and a number of sales have been made which have not yet been placed on record. Land owners frequently object to publicity being given to their transactions even after contracts have been entered into, preferring to wait for public notice until after the actual transfers have been made.

One of the purchases made and completed was that of J. E. Osborne from Martha M. Rousey. This tract includes 120 acres and the price paid was $175 per acre. The land is near Murrayville.

It was recently made known that Austin King has sold his farm of 183 acres lying five miles northeast of Jacksonville to John Allison. All the details of the transaction have not been made public, but it is understood that the land sold at about $210 per acre. It is also known that Mr. King purchased a tract of 430 acres of grass land from J. E. Osborne of Murrayville. This land is not more than five miles from Murrayville but is in Greene county. These sales were all made by C. H. Story.

As already indicated, other sales have been made particulars about which are still lacking and a number of other sales are in the making.

Butcher Stock Brings Good Prices

J. W. Breckon of Palmyra was in thec ity on business yesterday, having come to Jacksonville from East St. Louis, where he went with a car of cattle. The prices secured by Mr. Breckon indicate the active demand for all kinds of livestock. This was a mixed load and some of the fat heifers sold at $9.50. A year ago the prices for cattle of the same quality were from $7.50 to $8 per hundred lower.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of an execution to me directed by the clerk of the county court of Morgan county, in the State of Illinois, in favor of Martin Yehle and Mary Wagner, plaintiffs, and against George Wagner, defendant, I have levied upon all the right, title, interest and claim of George Wagner in and to lots number three (3) and four (4) in block eleven (11) and number two (2), three (3) and four (4) in block twelve (12), all in the original plat of the Town of Alexander. Also the following part of lot number three (3), described as beginning on the south side of the right of way of the Wabash railroad and fourteen (14) chains and thirty-seven links east of where the west line of section thirty (30), township fifteen (15) north, and range eight (8) west of the third P. M. crosses the said railroad, running thence south forty-eight (48) feet, thence west one hundred sixty-eight (168) feet, thence in a northeasterly direction in the center of the county road running from Alexander to Franklin to the right of way of said Wabash railroad and thence east one hundred thirty-six (136) feet to the place of beginning. All situated in Morgan county, Illinois.

As the property of the said George Wagner which I shall offer at public sale, to the highest and best bidder for cash in hand, at the south door of the court house in Jacksonville, Illinois, on Monday, the 19th day of February, A. D., 1917, at 2 o'clock p. m., to satisfy said execution.

GRANT GRAFF,
Sheriff Morgan County.
This 24th day of January, 1917.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

A short time since Doss Evans, a young man, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans, residing near Winchester, was leading a colt when by some means the animal shied and the halter was so wrapped about his right hand that a part of his thumb was torn off. He was brought to Passavant hospital and an effort has been made to graft a piece of flesh on the member to replace that which was torn away. The young man's parents were up to see him yesterday and found him getting along as well as could be expected.

HURT HIS ANKLE

A day or two since Bud Daniels residing in the north part of the county was walking beside his team hitched to a wagon when by some means he fell and his right ankle was pushed under the wagon wheel causing a painful injury which will lay Mr. Daniels up for a while.

PUBLIC SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

Having decided to quit farming, I will sell at the south door of the court house, Jacksonville, Illinois, Saturday, February 10, 1917, at 2 o'clock, 200 acres of good farm land, well improved, located 1½ miles southwest of State Hospital, 1 mile south of Illinois College. This farm will be sold in tracts then as a whole.

Mrs. Mayse Adams.

HARDWARE MEN AT DALLAS

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 24—Representatives of the hardware and implement trade in Texas gathered here in large number today for the annual convention of their state association. The convention will spend three days in the discussion of important trade problems.

LIMITS BEER PRODUCTION.

LONDON, Jan. 24—Baron Devonport, food controller, has decided that for the year beginning in April only 15,000,000 barrels of beer shall be produced, about half the output of the year preceding the war. Baron Devonport said the barley, sugar and other ingredients used in brewing are required for food.

COACH HARMON CAPTURES NIGHT TIME BURGLAR

Attired in Pajamas He Braved Wintery Winds To Pursue Man Fleeing with Stolen Property—Willis McDonald the Intruder.

W. T. Harmon, director of athletics of Illinois college, demonstrated that he is as capable at catching burglars as he is at turning out winning football and track teams when he captured Willis McDonald a well known colored character early Wednesday morning.

Coach Harmon clad only in his pajamas and barefooted chased McDonald thru the streets with no weapon but a small calibre revolver loaded with blank cartridges. He finally cornered McDonald, knocked him down and sat on him until the police arrived and took him to the police station.

Memory Is Bad.

Some few days ago McDonald, who operates a hamburger stand in West Morgan street, was found in his place nearly asphyxiated by escaping gas. Evidently he still had some of the gas or something else in him. All he could be induced to say at the station was "Ah don't remembah."

Tuesday evening Mr. Harmon after getting ready for bed laid down on a couch to read and fell asleep. About 1 o'clock his mother heard a noise but thought it was her son moving around. This thought was soon dispelled by some one striking a match.

She called to her son. As Coach Harmon awakened and started to investigate he picked up from a dresser a small caliber revolver loaded with blank cartridges which he uses for starting athletic events. He hastened down stairs and opened the back door just in time to see a form flying down the back yard.

Despite the fact that he was clad only in his pajamas and was barefooted, Harmon gave chase. Down an alley and into Hardin avenue went pursuer and pursued. Harmon thinking of the days when he played end on the Illinois football team and used to get down the field under punts got warmed to his work.

Sat On the Prisoner.

He gained on the prowler who finally dodged around the residence of George Haigh. Harmon lost sight of his quarry temporarily but turning suddenly he went the other way and came face to face with him. Acting with decision Harmon promptly swung with his right and down went the man. Harmon proceeded to sit on his frame while he called James Haigh.

When Mr. Haigh learned the trouble he came down and brought Harmon an overcoat and some slippers for his trillys in addition to being rather skinned up were getting cold. The police were notified and McDonald was taken to the police station and locked up.

When McDonald was captured he had Harmon's traveling bag and a coat. He was taken before Justice Dyer Wednesday afternoon and in default of bond in the sum of $200 was sent to jail.

McDonald has been well known in Jacksonville for a great many years. Some years ago he started a free for all fight in the circuit court room for which Judge Owen P. Thompson sentenced him to jail for contempt of court. He also was at one time adjudged insane and sent to Jacksonville State hospital. McDonald is a dangerous man to have at large and Coach Harmon certainly displayed great courage in capturing him single handed and unarmed.

Detroit Electric

Perhaps Today's Experience Will Prompt a Detroit Electric Demonstration Tomorrow

It's a cold, wintry day. There is a theatre party planned for the evening. You will provide the car. The tickets are bought and at 8:15 the curtain will rise.

You seem noticeably worried and nervous.

Outside stands your car. It has given you trouble all day. You're wondering about its performance tonight and your thoughts are not pleasant.

Now if you drive a Detroit Electric there are no cylinders to chill, no starter to stick and stall, no carburetor to choke-up.

You simply turn on the power and you start right off.

And you run smoothly and evenly from the outset. The "buck" and jerk process of warming up is entirely eliminated.

Why not let us drive you to and from your office for a few days in a Detroit Electric.

When may we arrange such a series of demonstration drives?

Prices range from $1775 to $2375

NO CENT SALE

—or—

2 for the Price of 1

A GREAT SUCCESS

We had the biggest, busiest Saturday in the history of our store, and while we were compelled to disappoint a few customers on account of being sold out of a few items, yet we more than made up for it, by having on sale a larger number of items than was advertised. It was some "stunt" all right and a surprise party to both of us.

THE PLAN

of sale is for you to buy one article at the regular price and we give you one absolutely free. Hence "two for one", "no cent" sale. Most sales have two or three or more cents off the regular price, but we are taking it ALL off by giving you "two for one," a "no cent sale."

"SAVE THE PENNIES"

"And the dollars will save themselves," is a very true old saying, and the time and the place to practice this is NOW and HERE. Particularly NOW, for some of the items are from lines of which we have only a few remaining, and particularly HERE, because we are the pioneers of QUALITY drug store merchandise in Jacksonville. Our every day guarantee of money back if not satisfied, applies to each and every item on sale.
